

Cycle Kingston is a grassroots, registered Canadian charity that promotes cycling through education and public outreach in Kingston. The main focus is making cycling education accessible through a variety of courses, presentations, media advertising and therefore demonstrating the environmental, social and physical benefits of cycling. Through the collaboration with municipalities, these activities empower cyclists and motorists alike to share the road and create a safer environment for everyone.

Membership fees help support Cycle Kingston's work and enrich our capacity to educate the public on cycling and safety matters.
